A member of Plunkett Cooney's Detroit office, Linda L. Haugh provides paralegal support to members of the firm's Appellate Law and General Liability Law practice groups.

Ms. Haugh focuses her practice primarily in the area of product liability law. Additionally, she regularly assists with matters before the Michigan Court of Appeals. She is also involved in a number of cases where her responsibilities include summarizing depositions and medical records, indexing records, large file document production and file management. Ms. Haugh's expertise includes reviewing documents for attorneys and providing extensive, detailed written summaries, focusing on the critical case information.

Ms. Haugh joined Plunkett Cooney in 1986 as a legal secretary in the firm's Real Estate & Transactional Practice Group, and more recently, in the General Liability Practice Group. Prior to her legal career, Ms. Haugh worked as a medical transcriptionist and as a physician's assistant.
