Richard A. Dinon recently completed his 27th year of practice with Plunkett Cooney. He began his legal career with the firm as a law clerk while pursuing his legal studies at the University of Detroit. He was admitted to the State Bar of Michigan in 1981 and began working as an attorney in the firm's Bloomfield Hills office. He became a shareholder in 1991, and has continued with the firm since that time.

After several years in the firm's workers compensation section, he transferred to the firm's product liability section where he developed a specialty in toxic torts. He has historically acted as National Coordinating Counsel for a major U.S. manufacturer of industrial tools and other products.

Mr. Dinon moved to the Petoskey office in 1990. Since that time, Mr. Dinon's practice has expanded to include labor negotiations, labor and employment law, construction accident and contract litigation and general liability. He currently serves as the managing partner of the Petoskey office.
