

Motor Vehicle Negligence

Attorneys in Plunkett Cooney's Motor Vehicle Liability Practice Group specialize in cases involving personal injuries resulting from motor vehicle accidents.

Our attorneys have a great deal of experience handling matters in which a “threshold injury” claim is made for damages. Their work requires a detailed understanding of the various legal theories concerning negligence and comparative fault, as well as an advanced working knowledge of medical care and conditions.

The Michigan No Fault Act controls issues surrounding Michigan motor vehicle liability law. Accordingly, our attorneys stay abreast of any modifications in the No Fault law and its interpretation. They are also updated regularly on appellate court rulings and trial results that impact motor vehicle liability claims.
