

Title Insurance Law

Plunkett Cooney has an extensive practice in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana dedicated to serving the needs of title insurance underwriters and their insureds.

The members of the firm's Title Insurance Practice Group focus their efforts on investigating and resolving title insurance issues and claims. Their practice includes real estate litigation, as well as advising clients on such issues as fraud, priority of interests, disputes regarding ownership, boundary lines, access, dower and other title matters. Our attorneys have additional expertise in the areas of construction lien disputes and litigation, including matters related to the Michigan Homeowners Construction Lien Recovery Fund and Ohio's and Indiana's Mechanic's Liens statutes, as well as bankruptcy litigation related to title insurance matters.

The firm's practice also extends to title insurance coverage issues and disputes. Our attorneys assist with agent defalcations and provide defense services in related litigation. The firm is also one of the few in the Midwest with an appellate department experienced in title appeals.

Plunkett Cooney's attorneys are active in a number of title insurance and industry organizations, including the American, Michigan, Ohio and Indiana Land Title associations. Clients, courts and industry organizations frequently call upon our attorneys to provide educational programs relating to title insurance, real estate, foreclosure and related topics.

Plunkett Cooney attorneys in Ohio contribute to Baldwin's Ohio Real Estate Law, now in its Third Edition.

Inquiries about the firm's Michigan title insurance practice can be directed to Kurt E. Riedel, kriedel@plunkettcooney.com; (248) 901-4043, in Ohio to Amelia A. Bower, abower@plunkettcooney.com; (614) 629-3004, and in Indiana to Mary A. Slade, msslade@plunkettcooney.com; (317) 610-3295.