

Professional Support Staff

Sometimes the grass really is greener on the other side! People who join Plunkett Cooney tell us that all the time. And many of those who leave the firm for other opportunities often find their way back to us. To give you a sense for just how close knit a group we are, attorneys and staff here consider themselves “Plunketteers.”

The firm is known for a few unique qualities – our commitment to obtaining the right results for clients, our personalized approach to the practice of law, our expertise in distinct areas of litigation and transactional work and our fearless determination to meet any challenge.

If you are ready to join a firm that works and plays hard in an atmosphere of teamwork and mutual respect, Plunkett Cooney may be the place for you!
