

Sixth Circuit Practice: The Ins and Outs of Interlocutory Appeals

May 15, 2012 • 1:00 pm – 4:30 pm

St. John's Conference Center
44045 Five Mile Road • Plymouth • Michigan • 48170

Agenda

- 1:00–1:45 Mary Massaron Ross, author of the chapter on interlocutory appellate review in the West treatise "Appellate Practice in Federal and State Courts" and president-elect of DRI, will offer an overview of when and how to seek (or oppose) immediate review, including a discussion of collateral orders, extraordinary writs, class certification appeals, and other avenues of appellate review.
- 1:45–2:45 Representatives from the Sixth Circuit clerk's office will offer their insights on interlocutory appeals, including orders immediately appealable as of right as well as permissive interlocutory appeals, and the procedures for requesting and handling same.
- 2:45–3:00 Break
- 3:00–4:30 Judicial perspective panel discussion on appellate advocacy, with a particular focus on interlocutory appeals, followed by a Q & A session with all of the speakers
- 4:30 Cocktail reception for attendees and speakers
